CV

Who Am I?

I am Aidan, A motivated and hard working Cardiff based student. Graphic design has only been a part of my life over the past two years, however the passion for it has existed for much longer.

My Background has allowed me to achieve a varied range of skills both digitally and physically within both design and academia.

I find myself diving head first into new challenges and experiences, often taking on different roles, giving myself the opportunity to consistently learn new skills. This not only allows me to work efficiently on my own, but also fit appropriately into different teams.
